RE: Sohler Law Updates

Dear Sohler Law Clients:

When I started Sohler Law almost 6 years ago, my goal was to build a boutique business, tax, and estate planning firm. Over the years, and with the support of clients like you, the firm has grown from me working by myself in a single room office to having a team of attorneys and support staff at our current location. It is with great pride I get to announce that we will be changing the firm name to Sohler Whitman and expanding the team.

Effective July 1st, Matt Whitman, of Matthew Whitman P.C. will be merging his probate and trust litigation practice with the firm. Matt is a seasoned litigator and will provide the firm with a broad knowledge base to better assist our clients in their various legal needs. The addition of Matt means that the firm will now be able to provide litigation services to our clients, with a specific focus on probate, trusts and elder abuse matters.

Also effective July 1st, Erin Evers of Evers Law, P.C. will be joining the firm as an ‘of counsel’ attorney. Erin’s practice focuses on business, tax, and estate planning. Additionally, she is a CPA. For those who do not know, Evers Law was where I started my legal career. While at her office, I learned what would be the basis for everything I have done as an attorney. Erin’s office is located in Hillsboro and allows us to add a west side office in which to meet clients.

Finally, I would like to introduce Michele Goodman. She is an Air Force veteran with 25 years of service and is a certified paralegal. She will be the primary point person on client phone calls, scheduling, and keeping the attorney staff organized. We are excited to have her on the team and know that she will help us create a better client experience.
